THE MILLS HOUSE, which has been closed for about eighteen months, was opened to the public on yesterday.

The house, which has about one hundred and twenty-five rooms, has been thoroughly reno-yated and furnished throughout with elegant furniture, carpets and curtains, and supplied with modern conveniences. The proprietor, Mr. J. Parker, has secured the services of Mr. John Campbell as bookkeeper, and Mr. George McGinlay as cateror-both of whom are the right men in the right place. The other departments are in charge of men equally competent to dis charge the duties of their places. The proprietor has opened under favorable auspices, and will surely reap the reward which follows enterprise and energy.

A first-class livery, Robert Graham proprietor, is attached to the house, and carriages for the conveyance of passengers will be in attendance at all steamboats and railroad trains. Mr. Graham is one of our own people, and the public will fine it to their advantage to give him a share of their

A great hotel is to a city a new source of wealth. It attracts visitors, compels improvement in others, and increases trade. The Continental, in Philippelphia, the Burnet, in Charles in dell, in St. Louis, have been rare auxiliaries in cliphia, the Burnet, in Cincinnati, the Lin-

the development of those cities, while New York is perhaps remembered in nothing more favora-bly than in her Astor, her Brevoort, her Fifth Avonue, her St. Nicholas, her Westminster, and her Metropolitan; and the success of these have been so marked that new and even more extensive resorts are projected. Charleston deserves to have, and has her good hotels, in proof of which we point to the "Charleston," the "Mills," and the "Pavilion." There are a large number of travellers who annually visit and pass through the city. They are generally persons of means, and are accustomed to live comfortably in their own resi-dences, and when they come here they are will-ing to pay well for what is furnished in the style to which they are accustomed. Such a house as the Mills will be eagerly sought; and its ascured prosperity will not only improve its competitors, if that be possible, but in time encourage the ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES. -At the annual meeting of the Charleston Board of Fire Underwriters, held on yesterday, the following officers and committees were unanimously elect ed for the ensuing year: Wm. B. Heriot, presilent; S. Y. Tupper, vice-president; A. L. Tobias, secretary.

vice as to Removal of Stocks and Impairy Into Causes of Fires.—Messes, J. H. Colburn, of Col-burn & Howell; D. Ravenel, Jr., of Huger & Ruvenel; Chas. T. Lowndes, Z. B. Oakes and A. H. Haydon Hayden.

Committee to Revise Rates and of Reference on Rates.—Wm. B. Herlot, S. Y. Tupper and A. L. Toblas.

ARREST OF MR. AVERILL .- Yesterday, while Mr. C. N. Averill, Flour Inspector, was exercising the duties of his office, he was arrested by Poicemen Nipson and Pond, and carried to the Guardhouse, upon the charge of violating the ordinance, passed at the last meeting of Council, "to prevent or punish any person who may exercise, or attempt to exercise, the duties of an nunicipal office, unless he shall have been duly elected to the same."

Mr. Wilkinson, counsel for Mr. Averill, appeared and offered bail for him, which was refused. He then went over to the State Court, which was in ession, and asked Judge Carpenter to issue a writ of habeas corpus and have the prisoner brought before him immediately.

Judge Carpenter sent for Captain Hendricks, who came and stated that a magistrate had been sent for to draw up a ball bond. A return to the Guardhouse showed the statement of the Chief to be correct. The bond in the sum of one hundred dollars was given, and Mr. Averill left, after being informed by the Captain that he would be arrested every time he attempted to inspect four.

STATE COURT-HON. R. B. CARPENTER JUDGE, PRESIDING .- The November term of the State Court was opened at ten o'clock yesterday

The roll of the grand and petit jurors was call ed. Twelve more names were ordered to be drawn for the petit juries and four for the grand jury, after which the petit jurors were dismissed until next Monday, and the grand jurors until i P. M., to which hour the court then adjourned. At one o'clock the court was reopened.

Patrick Moran, foreman; F. W. Bensaman, John Monsees, A. B. Miller, T. L. Quackenbush, John A. Selby, Wm. Glover, R. H. Dehay, white—8; Brawley Argill, John Bonum, Jack Mitchell, Moses Campbell, Wm. Jervey, John B. Morris, Cuty Richardson, Robt. A. Wainwright, James Whipplc, colored-9.

General Chamberlain instructed them in regard to their duties, saying, among other things, that one hundred and fifty bills would be brought before them-more than were ever before brought before a grand jury of the State Court; that crime was on the increase in the county, and it was in a measure due to the leniency of the grand jury of the last term.

The jury was then ordered to assemble at their room every morning, at 10 o'clock,

M. B. Allen, a negro tawyer from Massachusetts, presented the necessary papers and asked that he be admitted to practice in this court. He was
